Meredith's kids leave for school at eight and Meredith's first class is at 8:30. She needs a way to get to school fast and in time for class.

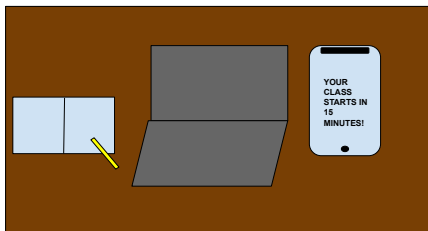

It's Meredith's first day of classes and she is nervous that she won't make it to her classes on time. Her advisor had mention a GPS app that helps students manage their time and help find their buildings and classes.

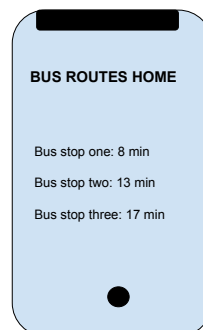

The app lets her know the available bus stops around her and how long the waits are.

Since Meredith has some time before her Chemistry class, she uses the app to find a dining hall and she ends up going to Russell.

Meredith got lunch and started to study for her classes. Meredith got carried away and lost track of time, but the app reminded her that her class is starting soon so she made it to class in time.

After her last class, the app lets Meredith know the closest and the soonest bus stops are to go home.

Ravi is an International student and it's his first time in a foreign university. Before this he used to be in his hometown college where he just need to stay in one class for all of his lectures.

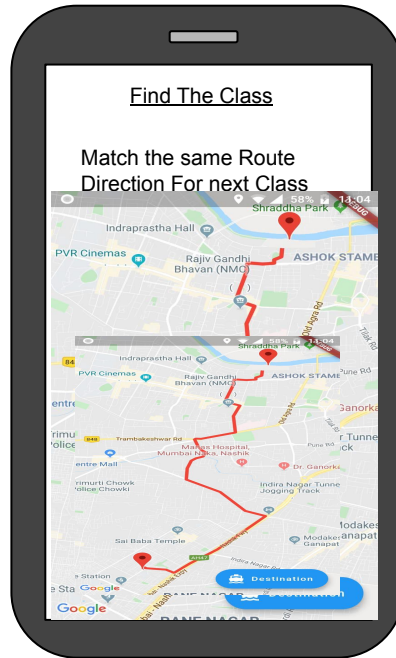

On the first day of his class he got confused that why he have to move always to some new building for his every class. On the top of that he is not familiar with the university's map. He always reach late to his class because of that. He is so frustrated because of that.

Ravi became really sad as because of not knowing the map of university properly he was being late in the class. And in some of the class he also got absent for being late at particular day even it was not intended by him.

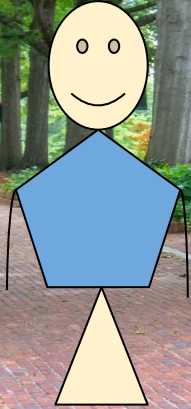

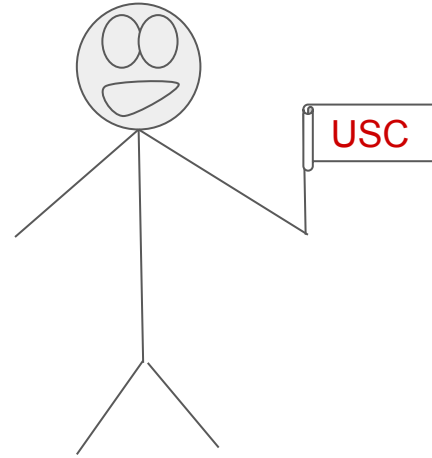

Once he was passing from one of the building in his university and struggling to get to his class he met his friend who was also freshman. He asked him about the direction of the class and told him how he always struggle to find the class. His friend suggested him Find the class app and explained how it makes his life very easy.

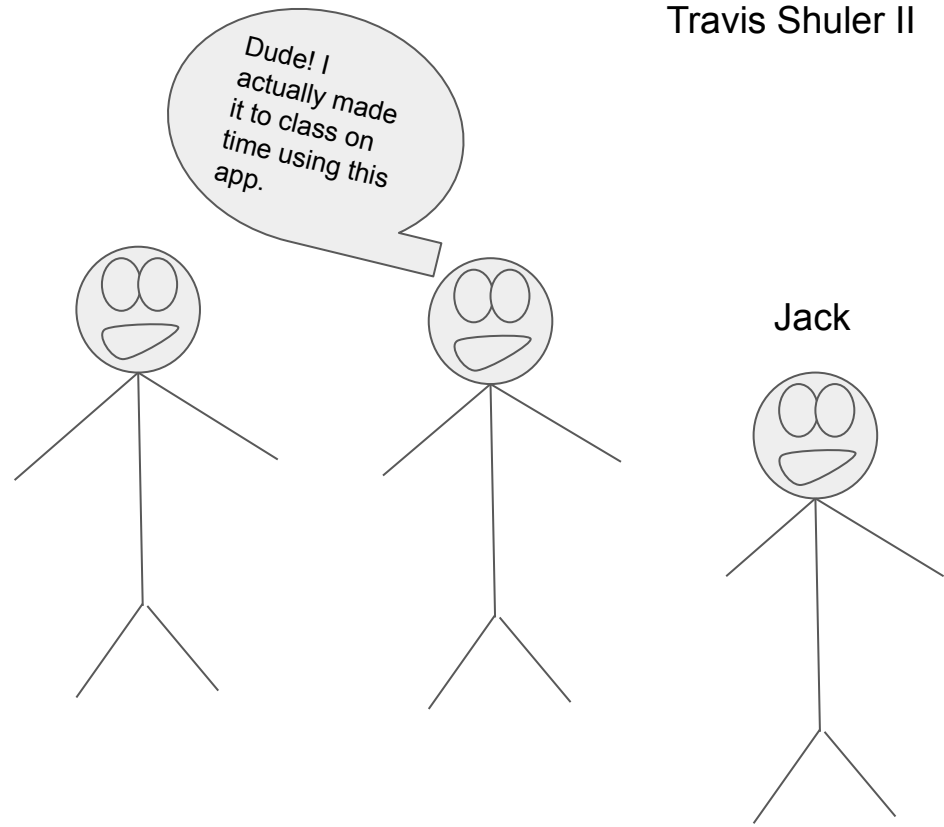

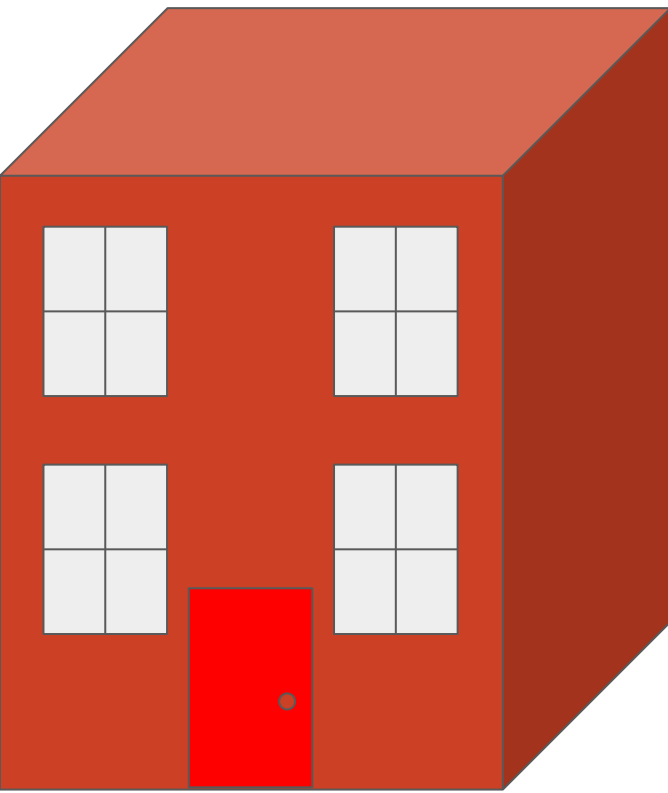

As his friend suggested he downloaded Find the class App from the app store and started using it. Now every time he has a class he always get the reminder that he has this many class in the day and this much time it will take him to reach the class so he can make things ready by that time. Now he dont struggle while shifting from one class to another.

Now, Ravi is very happy. He is not frustrated anymore. He never gets late to his class and on top of that he has also started remembering the map of university.

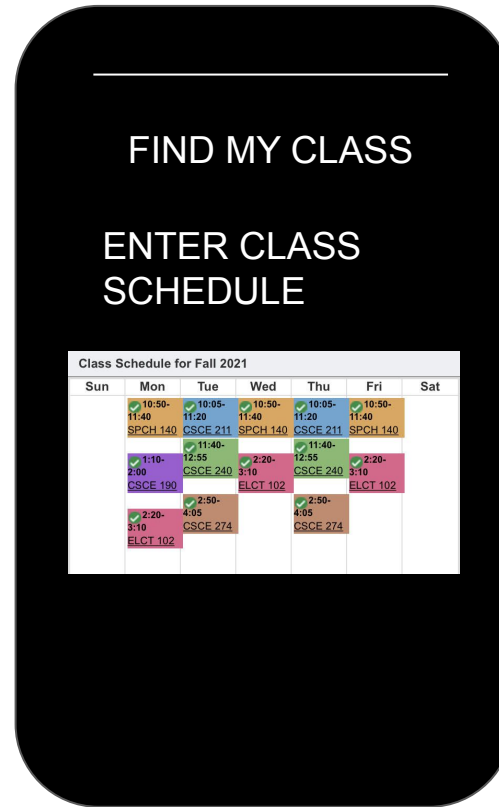

Jack Parlor just graduated from Virginia Tech with his degree in Accounting. Jack currently just enrolled at University of South Carolina Graduate School. Since he is very new to the school he is very unsure about the location of his classes.

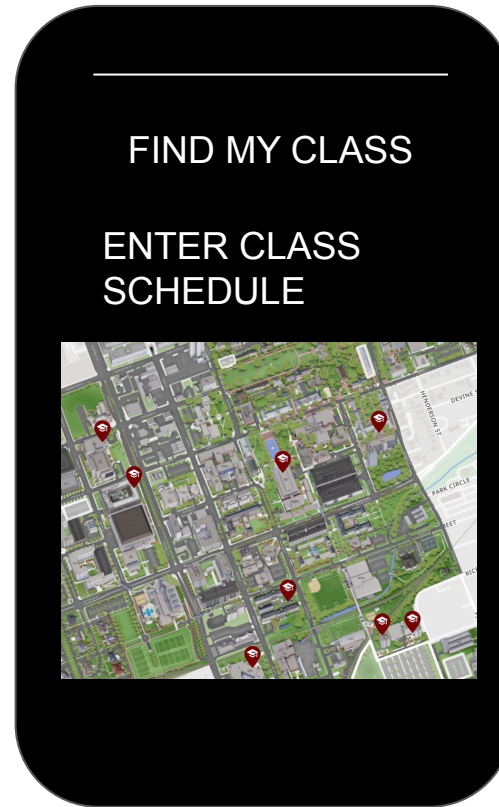

While Jack is moving into his apartment he overhears two undergraduate students from the university discuss what they use to get around campus and the fastest way to get to class on time.

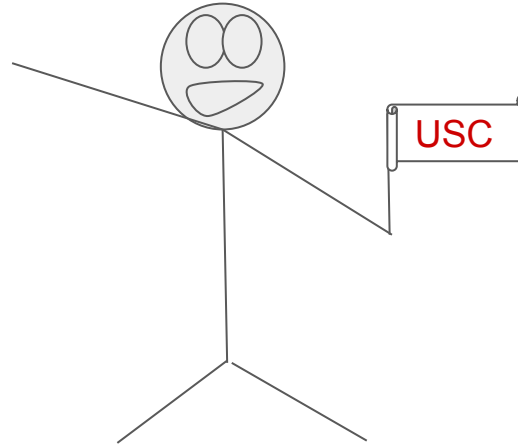

He approaches the two undergraduate students from the University and they show him the application they are talking about.

Jack immediately downloads the application and the two undergraduate students invite him into their apartment to help him navigate the application. They first tell him to click on the enter your schedule tab on his phone. He went to the screen and found out entering his schedule will generate the map of his classes and his current location.

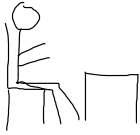

After Jack inputs his schedule into the database of the application, a map appears on his screen. The two college undergraduate then tell him the places highlighted are the building your classes are located. The map will also tell you how long it will take to get to class walking, bus, car, or bicycle/scooter.

Jack Parlor day was fulfilled with excitement because he no longer has to figure out how long and where his current classes are located on campus. Jack thank the two young men and leaves in pure joy!

Wilburn is a dedicated student and wants to excel at school. Unfortunately, he is constantly running late due to traffic. He wishes there was a solution in which he can get to school quicker and on time.

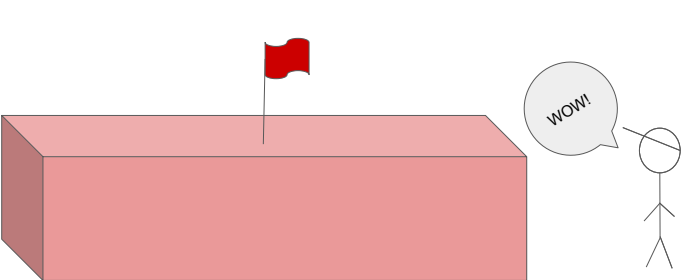

He was ranting to his friends when a classmate called Johnny, showed him an app. He told him to download the Student Planner App.

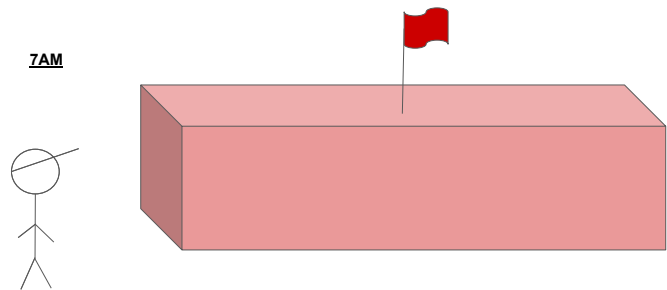

Johnny was demonstrating how the app has many features, one of which is getting to school on time. It shows not only the current traffic and best route, but also what time to leave each day based on his planner.

Wilburn surprised, downloaded the app and gave it ago. He set up his account, adding his planner, location, as well as school.

The next day, he uses the app and finally reaches to school on time! He even got a parking spot

Wilburn from that day, was never late to school again, and can focus on his academic success, rather than worry about being late!
